OUR PATTERNS

Are of Turkish, Animal, Flower, Scroll. and other Designs, all printed by hand upon suitable Jute cloth (Burlaps) and are shaded in the various colors required to make them perfect. The designs are not on paper, but cloth which forms the body of the Rug, and so plain that a person of very little experience can fill them readily and do good work. They are filled with various kinds of rags or wool yarn, with the NOVELTY RUG MACHINE, invented expressly for the purpose. This Machine makes the loops so regular that a Rug looks well without clipping, but those who prefer clipping can do so. A small sample Rug neatly made by the canvasser, is useful to show those who have never seen such work, as it helps them to thoroughly understand it at once and see that there no deception about it.

The Ross & Co. Rug Machine and Embroiderer is the oldest, the most simple and most reliable of any, and is outliving all its competitors. Price $1.00 without the embroidery needle and $1.10 with both. Goods sent to any address, post paid.

How to make nice Winter Caps with our Novelty Rug Machine.

Take coarse, strong flannel and stretch it in a frame. Mark out with chalk a strip three or four inches wide, and as long as the distance around the head. Draw a circle which, across the center is one-third the distance around the head. Now fill up close to the mark with seal brown yarn or soft woolen rags of some suitable color: then paste some cambric or other thin material, with thin flour paste on the side you have worked on. Let it get dry and then cut out, leaving a margin all around of one-half inch for seam; join the band and sew in the crown. Cut out and close up the lining same way. put it in the cap and blind-stitch around the edge. Caps made this way with seal brown yarn and clipped, look exactly like fur.

Always give your full address, and send money by Registered Letter or P. O. Order.

(TRADE CATALOGUE) ROSS & CO., E. RUG PATTERNS. 1891. $385.00

East Norwalk, Connecticut. Oblong small 8vo. Cloth spine, publisher's wrappers. (35) color-printed plates.

A charming, unsophisticated rarity, featuring fifty-six designs on thirty-five plates, for hooked rugs, all individually priced and illustrated in color by a woodblock method. These rugs are meant to be made at home by craft-minded Victorian women seeking to improve their house furnishings. Laid-in is a six page brochure advertising Ross and Co's Rug Machine, along with further pricing of designs, yards of yarn required for completing each project, and for Ross's machine itself. Blue wrappers slightly discolored. No copy of this catalogue was cited by OCLC, but an 1889 catalogue is cited by McKinstry as being at Winterthur--albeit without the six page insert.
